National Mental Health Awareness Campaign

Date: 1999(For resources, this is the publication date. For programs, this is the date posted.)

Information

Type: Other
Author: National Mental Health Awareness Campaign (NMHAC)
Publisher: National Mental Health Awareness Campaign (NMHAC)

See This Resource

http://nostigma.org/about_us.php [1]

NMHAC, a nationwide nonpartisan public education campaign, was launched as part of the 1999 White House Conference on Mental Health organized by Tipper Gore. It has a two-pronged goal: encourage people to identify, discuss, and seek help for mental health problems; and create a more accepting environment for them to do so. The website includes materials for campaign speakers, students, adults, and professionals.

Links within this resource

Printed on 04/22/2020 from http://www.sprc.org/resources-programs/national-mental-health-awareness-campaign