Strengthening our future: Key elements to developing a trauma-informed juvenile justice diversion program for youth with behavioral health conditions

Date: 2016 (For resources, this is the publication date. For programs, this is the date posted.)

Information
Type: Manual
Publisher: National Center for Mental Health and Juvenile Justice

See This Resource
Strengthening our future [1]

This report presents the current understanding of child trauma in the context of juvenile justice; identifies 9 implementation domains essential to achieving a trauma-informed juvenile justice diversion approach and highlights case examples from each state involved in the initiative (Georgia, Indiana, Massachusetts, and Tennessee)

Links within this resource

Printed on 05/29/2020 from http://www.sprc.org/resources-programs/strengthening-our-future-key-elements-developing-trauma-informed-juvenile-justice