Better Suicide Screening and Prevention Are Possible

October 06, 2016
News Type: Weekly Spark, Weekly Spark Announcement

Michael F. Hogan, co-lead of the Zero Suicide Advisory Group and independent advisor and consultant for Hogan Health Solutions, has published an article in JAMA Psychiatry titled “Better Suicide Screening and Prevention Are Possible [1].” In it, he discusses research and expert opinion that provide evidence for aspects of suicide prevention in health care.

Links within this resource