Effective Suicide Prevention

Video:

This four-minute video provides a brief overview of SPRC’s Effective Suicide Prevention Model [1], which can help you carry out suicide prevention efforts that are most likely to be effective. It will guide you through the three elements of the model—Strategic Planning [2], Keys to Success [3], and the Comprehensive Approach [4]. As described in the model, effective suicide prevention efforts should:

- Help you understand the suicide problem in your community or setting, set clear goals, and prioritize actions that are most likely to make a difference, using a strategic planning [2] process.
- Use a number of guiding principles, or keys to success [3].
- Combine multiple efforts that work in sync to create change rather than relying on standalone programs to do so. See SPRC’s comprehensive approach to suicide prevention [4].
