Suicide: A preventable public health priority

Date: 2019 (For resources, this is the publication date. For programs, this is the date posted.)

Information

Type: Webinar/Presentation
Author: Stout E.
Publisher: University of Michigan

See This Resource

Suicide: A preventable public health priority [1]

This webinar provides an overview of suicide prevention as a public health issue in the US. Elly Stout Director of the SPRC, discusses individual and community level strategies that can be used by health systems, public health and health/behavioral health care professionals. She provides next steps for the field as well.

Links within this resource

Printed on 03/12/2020 from http://www.sprc.org/resources-programs/suicide-preventable-public-health-priority