AFTER THE HEROIN FORUM
For Bereaved, Policymakers,
Clinicians, and Community Members

Tuesday, May 23, 2017
10:00—12:00 PM
Combs Grise Room, Combs Building
Eastern Kentucky University

About the Presentation:
This public forum highlights the problem of heroin in Kentucky and invites those who are bereaved by heroin overdose, policy makers, clinicians, caring community members, and clergy to attend. Susan Mitchell will share her story of loss following the death of her son and read from her book, “After the Heroin: A Mother’s Story in Poetry.” Other speakers include Anne Roberts, founder of Lexington’s new Grief Recovery After Substance Passing (GRASP) group, EKU Professor Dr. Theresa Bettis, and invited policymakers and community leaders.
