Comprehensive Community Mental Health Services for Children and Their Families Program, Evaluation findings, Report to Congress, 2012-2013

Date: 2015 (For resources, this is the publication date. For programs, this is the date posted.)

Information
Type: Report
Author: ICF Macro
Publisher: Center for Mental Health Services, Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)

See This Resource
http://store.samhsa.gov/product/The-Comprehensive-Community-Mental-Health-Servic... [1]

The Comprehensive Community Mental Health Services for Children and Their Families Program, also known as the Children’s Mental Health Initiative (CMHI) was created to promote the coordination of the multiple and often fragmented systems that serve children and youth from birth to age 21 diagnosed with a serious emotional disturbance and their families. This report presents program evaluation findings on the program for the years 2012-2013 that supports systems of care for community-based mental health services for children, youth and their families.

The report shows that there were reductions in suicide ideation and attempts among youth after entering the program.

    Populations: Young Adults Ages 18 to 25 Years, Youth, Children Ages 12 and Younger, Adolescents
    Settings: Outpatient Mental Health
    About Suicide: Behavioral Health Disorders

Links within this resource

Printed on 10/22/2019 from https://www.sprc.org/resources-programs/comprehensive-community-mental-health-services-children-their-families-program-1