

University of Nebraska Lincoln

Grant Type: Garrett Lee Smith Campus
Grant Status: Active
Year Awarded: 2019
State: Colorado

The purpose of the University of Nebraska-Lincoln (UNL) Suicide Prevention Program, entitled An Evidence-based Approach to Preventing Student Suicide at UNL, is to build infrastructure to increase and sustain capacity for effective identification of and intervention for at risk students and develop a culturally appropriate, comprehensive approach to address mental health promotion and suicide prevention. The target audience for the proposed project is the estimated 25,000 UNL enrolled students including those at high-risk for suicide and behavior health disorders. Campus and community partners will address prevention and student well-being by establishing sustainable policies and procedures with clear pathways for at-risk students transitioning to and from treatment and the campus setting. This project will provide training for over 4000 faculty, staff, and students in suicide prevention, expand ways to screen students for depression, alcohol and other drug misuse and abuse and connect them to resources. Campus providers will participate in CAMS (Collaborative Assessment and Management of Suicidality) training each year with 30 providers trained over the grant period. Project staff will guide the development of a multi-media campaign to promote help seeking and reduce the stigma associated with mental health issues.

Printed on 10/15/2019 from <https://www.sprc.org/grantees/university-nebraska-lincoln>

The Suicide Prevention Resource Center at EDC is supported by a grant from the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA), Center for Mental Health Services (CMHS), under Grant No. 5U79SM062297.

The views, opinions, and content expressed in this product do not necessarily reflect the views, opinions, or policies of CMHS, SAMHSA, or HHS.

Copyright © 2002-2019 by Education Development Center, Inc. All Rights Reserved.

