Notice of Special Interest: Mental Health Research on COVID-19

May 01, 2020
News Type: Weekly Spark, Weekly Spark Announcement

The National Institute of Mental Health (NIMH) has issued a notice of special interest for research to strengthen the mental health response to COVID-19 and future public health emergencies, including pandemics. Applications are being accepted on a rolling basis through April 15, 2021.

Links within this resource

Printed on 05/07/2020 from https://www.sprc.org/news/notice-special-interest-mental-health-research-covid-19