Choosing a Suicide Prevention Gatekeeper Training Program: A Comparison Table of Trainings Available Online

Date: 2020 (For resources, this is the publication date. For programs, this is the date posted.)

This comparison table will help you find an online gatekeeper training appropriate for your setting, the people you are trying to protect from suicide, and the people you want to train as gatekeepers. It is not a comprehensive list of gatekeeper trainings, but includes the online trainings in the Resources and Programs section of the SPRC website. It provides information on training objectives, audiences, training format and highlights, and links to the training developer’s website and the SPRC listing on the training.

Gatekeeper training teaches people to identify individuals who are showing warning signs of suicide risk and help these individuals get the services they need. Note that it is most effective to combine gatekeeper training with other strategies described in SPRC’s Comprehensive Approach to Suicide Prevention [3]. This list includes only gatekeeper trainings that are online. A list that includes both online and in-person [4] gatekeeper trainings is also available.

Information

Type: Resource List/Bibliography
Author: Suicide Prevention Resource Center (SPRC)
Publisher: Suicide Prevention Resource Center (SPRC)

See This Resource

Choosing a Suicide Prevention Gatekeeper Training Program: A Comparison Table of Trainings Available Online [1]

This comparison table will help you find an online gatekeeper training appropriate for your setting, the people you are trying to protect from suicide, and the people you want to train as gatekeepers. It is not a comprehensive list of gatekeeper trainings, but includes the online trainings in the Resources and Programs section of the SPRC website. It provides information on training objectives, audiences, training format and highlights, and links to the training developer’s website and the SPRC listing on the training.

Gatekeeper training teaches people to identify individuals who are showing warning signs of suicide risk and help these individuals get the services they need. Note that it is most effective to combine gatekeeper training with other strategies described in SPRC’s Comprehensive Approach to Suicide Prevention [3]. This list includes only gatekeeper trainings that are online. A list that includes both online and in-person gatekeeper trainings is also available.